

Procedure for special admission

If you would like to apply for an undergraduate degree on the basis of your extraordinary artistic talent, you need to register online by 12 February at the latest and pay a non-refundable registration fee of CHF 150. When you register, you will also be asked to submit the following documents to ECAL:

- an administrative file, including a complete CV, a copy of an identity document and a copy of any qualifications you have achieved
- a portfolio file, including a motivation letter and a portfolio showcasing your personal work.

Once you have submitted your application for special admission, it will be examined by ECAL. You will receive ECAL's decision in writing and/or via email during March.

If your application is successful, you may then sit the undergraduate entrance exam, and the admissions panel will examine your portfolio file. If not, however, you will not be able to sit the entrance exam.
